Cott Beverages Limited

Strategic Report

for the 52 week period ended 31 December 2016

The directors present their strategic report and the audited financial statements of Cott Beverages Limited for the 52 week period ended 31 December 2016.

Review of the business

The principal activity of the Company during the period was the manufacture and sale of soft drinks.

During the year the overall soft drinks market showed a slight increase in both volume and value. Own label soft drinks showed a slight increase in volume and a small decline in value, as strong growth in the water category offset declines in the traditional Carbonated soft drinks and Sports & Energy categories. The Company has sought to continue to protect its core retail and Sports & Energy business, develop its own brand portfolio, broaden its channel presence and also its co-packing business. Revenue declined 9.3% over the previous year as a result of the continued challenging market environment and the loss of a major retail customer contract from Q2 2016. As a result of this, the company undertook a cost reduction programme which was completed in Q1 2016.

Gross margins increased to 19.3% (52 weeks ended 02 January 2016: 18.0%), primarily due to lower logistics costs as a result of the successful implementation of a supply chain efficiency programme.

Selling and distribution expenses at £20,581,000 were lower than the previous year of £22,299,000, as a result of lower transport costs associated with lower sales volumes.

The company continues to generate cash from its trading activities and invests time on the careful management of cash throughout the year, in particular the prompt collection of debts and the timing of capital investments. Through this the company is well placed to continue to invest in growth opportunities and also benefits from the wider resources and strength of the Cott group to support growth. During the year the Company focussed its capital investment on increasing capacity at our can facility, implementing new PET blowmoulding technology, and improving production quality.

In October 2016 the company purchased the trade and assets of another group company Calypso Soft Drinks Limited. This transaction has been reflected at book value (see note 27).

Principal Risks & Uncertainties

The principal risks facing the business are the continuing challenges in the Own Label soft drinks market, loss of major customer contracts due to increasingly competitive environment, the impact on sales of the implementation of the Soft Drinks Industry Levy, and the fluctuation of prices of key commodities, in particular those against which we cannot buy forward to give us certainty in our customer pricing. With some commodities this is further complicated by currency fluctuations. We continue to work with our key suppliers to manage this risk and wherever possible to obtain certainty in our cost prices over the short term.

Directors' Report

for the 52 week period ended 31 December 2016

The directors present their report and the audited financial statements of the company for the 52 weeks ended 31 December 2016.

Future developments

The Company will continue with its strategy to support and develop its core retail business, invest in and develop new distribution channels, seek opportunities to increase presence in growing categories and build its portfolio of brands, whilst also strengthening relationships with major brand owners in the provision of co-packing services.

The Company will continue to make further investments in capacity and flexibility at its production sites in order to allow it to continue to grow sales and to secure contracts with customers and will also make selective investments in new formats or capabilities, to meet proven customer demand.

The Company will continue to seek opportunities to generate growth in revenues, profit and cash flow through strategic acquisitions which support its objectives to continue to diversify its product and format capabilities, along with its customer channels.

The Company will seek to mitigate the impact of the Soft Drinks Industry Levy by working collaboratively with customers and suppliers to reformulate products.

The directors remain committed to delivering excellent service, stringent cost control and manufacturing efficiency, whilst making selective capital investments.

Sale and leaseback of manufacturing facility

On 7 June 2017 the manufacturing facility at Bondgate in Pontefract was sold for proceeds of £6,540,000 and immediately leased back for a term of 27 years. A gain of £3,692,000 was generated.

Acquisition of Cott's Traditional Beverage Manufacturing Business by Refresco

On July 25, 2017, Cott Corporation announced that it had entered into a definitive agreement to sell its traditional beverage manufacturing business to Refresco Group N.V. for $1.25 billion. The transaction includes Cott's North America, U.K. (including the company) and Mexico businesses (excluding the RCI International division and its associated concentrate facility as well as the Aimia Foods division).

The acquisition, which is expected to close in the second half of 2017, is subject to certain closing conditions including regulatory approval, Refresco shareholder approval, and working capital adjustments. As at the date of signing, the transaction was not completed.

Results and dividends

The profit and loss account for the period is set out on page 9. The profit before tax for the financial period is £18,923,000 (52 weeks ended 02 January 2016: £37,639,000).

The directors have approved and paid a dividend of £2,973,000 in respect of the current period, see note 11 for details of the date paid (52 weeks ended 02 January 2016: £30,023,000).

Financial risk management

The Company's operations expose it to a variety of financial risks that include the effects of changes in debt market prices, credit risk, liquidity risk, foreign exchange risk and interest rate cash flow risk. The Company is a participant in the Cott Corporation global credit facility which provides the Company with extra funding capacity. Management also has access to Cott Corporation's Treasury Department that assists in the monitoring and managing of financial risk.

Cott Beverages Limited

Directors' Report

Price risk

The Company's primary risk is its exposure to commodity price risk as a result of its operations. If the Company's operations change in size or nature, the directors revisit price risk to ensure the risks are still being managed appropriately. The Company has no exposure to equity securities price risk as it holds no listed investments.

Credit risk

The Company has in place policies that require appropriate credit checks on potential customers before sales are made and regularly review changes in risk within its customer base.

Liquidity risk

The company manages UK liquidity risk through regular monitoring of cash performance against forecasts and have regular discussions with the ultimate parent company (Cott Corporation) to ensure appropriate funding is in place to meet its commitments.

Foreign exchange risk

The company purchases some ingredients and packaging from European & Worldwide suppliers in currencies other than Sterling, which presents a risk of price fluctuations. The company partially mitigates this risk through selling products to a number of customers in Europe in currencies other than Sterling, although this is a small proportion of the overall sales of Cott Beverages Limited. The company will also seek to mitigate the impact of any anticipated exchange rate fluctuations by purchasing foreign currency in advance of making payments to suppliers. The company did not make any advance purchases of foreign currency in 2016.

The company also purchases ingredients and packaging that are traded in Sterling, but where the underlying commodity is traded in a currency other than Sterling, which exposes the company to "indirect foreign exchange risk". The company seeks to mitigate this risk by working with suppliers to obtain short term cost price certainty where possible.

Interest rate cash flow risk

The Company has both interest bearing assets and interest bearing liabilities. Interest bearing assets include only cash balances, all of which earn interest at floating rates. The interest bearing liabilities relate to group liabilities which are managed by a Treasury team within the ultimate parent company (Cott Corporation).

Research and development

We continue to invest in developing new products within all markets in which the Company trades. The directors regard innovation as integral to the continuing success of the business and the ongoing growth of all our businesses.

Employees

Applications for employment by disabled persons are always fully considered, bearing in mind the respective aptitudes and abilities of the applicant concerned. All necessary assistance with initial training courses is given, and, in common with all employees, a career plan is prepared so as to maximise individual development opportunities. In the event of members of staff becoming disabled, arrangements are made where possible for retraining, to enable them to perform work identified as appropriate to their aptitudes and abilities. It is the policy of the Company that the training, career development and promotion of a disabled person should, as far as possible, be identical to that of a person who does not have a disability.

Consultation with employees or their representatives has continued at all levels, through staff consultation committees and at meetings with the aim of ensuring that their views are taken into account when decisions are made that are likely to affect their interests and that all employees are aware of the financial and economic performance of their business units and of the Company as a whole. Communication with employees continues through monthly and quarterly briefs and through the use of staff notice boards. The company encourages employees to participate in the ownership of shares in the company through a HMRC approved share incentive plan.

Statement of directors' responsibilities

The directors are responsible for preparing the Annual Report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and regulation.

Company law requires the directors to prepare financial statements for each financial 52 week period. Under that law the directors have prepared the financial statements in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice (United Kingdom Accounting Standards, comprising FRS 102 "The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland", and applicable law). Under company law the directors must not approve the financial statements unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the company and of the profit or loss of the company for that period. In preparing the financial statements, the directors are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- state whether applicable United Kingdom Accounting Standards, comprising FRS 102, have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements;
- make judgements and accounting estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the company will continue in business.

The directors are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that are sufficient to show and explain the company's transactions and disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the company and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006.

The directors are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

Disclosure of information to auditors

In the case of each director in office at the date the Directors' Report is approved:

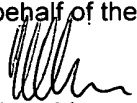

Cott Beverages Limited
Directors' Report

- so far as the director is aware, there is no relevant audit information of which the company's auditors are unaware; and
- they have taken all the steps that ought to have been taken as a director in order to make themselves aware of any relevant audit information and to establish that the company's auditors are aware of that information.

Independent auditors

The auditors, PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP, have indicated their willingness to continue in office and a resolution concerning their re-appointment will be proposed at the Annual General Meeting.

Cott Beverages Limited

Independent auditors' report to the members of Cott Beverages Limited

Report on the financial statements

Our opinion

In our opinion, Cott Beverages Limited's financial statements (the "financial statements"):

- give a true and fair view of the state of the company's affairs as at 31 December 2016 and of its profit for the 52 week period (the "period") then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice; and
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006.

What we have audited

The financial statements, included within the Annual Report and financial statements (the "Annual Report"), comprise:

- the Balance Sheet as at 31 December 2016;
- the Profit and loss account and Statement of comprehensive income for the period then ended;
- the Statement of changes in equity for the period then ended; and the notes to the financial statements, which include a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

The financial reporting framework that has been applied in the preparation of the financial statements is United Kingdom Accounting Standards, comprising FRS 102 "The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland", and applicable law (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

In applying the financial reporting framework, the directors have made a number of subjective judgements, for example in respect of significant accounting estimates. In making such estimates, they have made assumptions and considered future events.

Opinions on other matters prescribed by the Companies Act 2006

In our opinion, based on the work undertaken in the course of the audit:

- the information given in the Strategic Report and the Directors' Report for the financial period for which the financial statements are prepared is consistent with the financial statements; and
- the Strategic Report and the Directors' Report have been prepared in accordance with applicable legal requirements.

In addition, in light of the knowledge and understanding of the company and its environment obtained in the course of the audit, we are required to report if we have identified any material misstatements in the Strategic Report and the Directors' Report. We have nothing to report in this respect.

Other matters on which we are required to report by exception

Adequacy of accounting records and information and explanations received

Under the Companies Act 2006 we are required to report to you if, in our opinion:

- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit; or
- adequate accounting records have not been kept, or returns adequate for our audit have not been received from branches not visited by us; or
- the financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns.

We have no exceptions to report arising from this responsibility

Cott Beverages Limited

Directors' remuneration

Under the Companies Act 2006 we are required to report to you if, in our opinion, certain disclosures of directors' remuneration specified by law are not made. We have no exceptions to report arising from this responsibility.

Responsibilities for the financial statements and the audit

Our responsibilities and those of the directors

As explained more fully in the Statement of directors' responsibilities set out on page 5 the directors are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view.

Our responsibility is to audit and express an opinion on the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and International Standards on Auditing (UK and Ireland) ("ISAs (UK & Ireland)"). Those standards require us to comply with the Auditing Practices Board's Ethical Standards for Auditors.

This report, including the opinions, has been prepared for and only for the company's members as a body in accordance with Chapter 3 of Part 16 of the Companies Act 2006 and for no other purpose. We do not, in giving these opinions, accept or assume responsibility for any other purpose or to any other person to whom this report is shown or into whose hands it may come save where expressly agreed by our prior consent in writing.

What an audit of financial statements involves

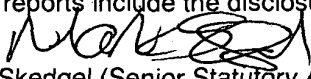

We conducted our audit in accordance with ISAs (UK & Ireland). An audit involves obtaining evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements sufficient to give reasonable assurance that the financial statements are free from material misstatement, whether caused by fraud or error. This includes an assessment of:

- whether the accounting policies are appropriate to the company's circumstances and have been consistently applied and adequately disclosed;
- the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by the directors; and
- the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We primarily focus our work in these areas by assessing the directors' judgements against available evidence, forming our own judgements, and evaluating the disclosures in the financial statements.

We test and examine information, using sampling and other auditing techniques, to the extent we consider necessary to provide a reasonable basis for us to draw conclusions. We obtain audit evidence through testing the effectiveness of controls, substantive procedures or a combination of both.

In addition, we read all the financial and non-financial information in the Annual Report to identify material inconsistencies with the audited financial statements and to identify any information that is apparently materially incorrect based on, or materially inconsistent with, the knowledge acquired by us in the course of performing the audit. If we become aware of any apparent material misstatements or inconsistencies we consider the implications for our report. With respect to the Strategic Report and Directors' Report, we consider whether those reports include the disclosures required by applicable legal requirements.

3. Summary of significant accounting policies

The principal accounting policies applied in the preparation of these financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented, unless otherwise stated. The company has adopted FRS102 in these financial statements.

(i) Basis of preparation

These financial statements are prepared on a going concern basis, under the historical cost convention, and in accordance with Companies Act 2006 and applicable accounting standards in the United Kingdom.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with FRS 102 requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates. It also requires management to exercise its judgement in the process of applying the company's accounting policies. The areas involving a higher degree of judgement or complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the financial statements are disclosed in note 4.

(ii) Consolidated financial statements

These financial statements contain information about Cott Beverages Limited as an individual company and do not contain consolidated financial information. The company is exempt under section 401 of the Companies Act 2006 from the requirement to prepare consolidated financial statements as it is a wholly owned subsidiary of Cott Corporation, a company incorporated in Canada, and it and its subsidiary undertakings are included in the consolidated financial statements of its ultimate parent, which are publicly available.

(iii) Exemptions for qualifying entities under FRS 102

FRS102 allows a qualifying entity certain disclosure exemptions. These exemptions are:

- a) a reconciliation of the number of shares outstanding at the beginning and end of the period. [FRS 102 para 4.12 (a) (iv)] ;
- b) the requirement to prepare a statement of cash flows. [section 7 of FRS 102 and para 3.17 (d)] ;
- c) certain financial instrument disclosures providing equivalent disclosures are included in the consolidated financial statements of the group in which the entity is consolidated. [FRS 102 paras 11.39 -11.48A, 12.26 – 12.29];

Cott Beverages Limited

(iii) Exemptions for qualifying entities under FRS 102 (continued)

- d) certain disclosure requirements of section 26 in respect of share based payments provided that (i) for a subsidiary the share based payment concerns equity instruments of another group entity; or (ii) for an ultimate parent the share based concerns its own equity instruments and its separate financial statements are presented alongside the consolidated financial statements of the group; and in both cases the equivalent disclosures are included in the consolidated financial statements of the group in which the entity is consolidated. [FRS 102 paras 26.18 (b), 26.19 – 26.21. 26.23] and
- e) the non disclosure of key management personnel compensation in total [FRS 102 para 33.7].

The company has taken advantage of these exemptions on the basis that it is a qualifying entity and its ultimate parent company Cott Corporation, includes this information about the company in its own consolidated financial statements which can be obtained from the Company Secretary at 6525 Viscount Road, Mississauga, Ontario, L4V 1H6, Canada.

(iv) Revenue recognition

Revenue, which excludes value added tax, represents the invoiced amounts derived from the manufacture and sale of soft drinks after deductions have been made for trade discounts. Revenue is recognised when the goods are despatched, which is deemed to be the point at which the significant risks and rewards of ownership have been transferred to the buyer.

Interest income is recognised when it is credited to the bank.

Dividend income is recognised when the dividends are approved and cash received.

(v) Research and development

Costs incurred in respect of research and development are expensed to the profit and loss account in the period in which they are incurred.

(vi) Employee benefits

a) Short term benefits

The company provides a range of benefits to employees, including annual bonus arrangements, paid holiday arrangements and defined benefit and defined contribution plans.

Short term benefits, including holiday pay and other similar non-monetary benefits, are recognised as an expense in the period in which the service is received.

b) Defined contribution pension plans

The company operates a defined contribution plan for its employees. A defined contribution plan is a pension plan under which the company pays fixed contributions into a separate entity. Once the payment has been made the company has no further payment obligations. The contributions are recognised as an expense when they are due. Amounts not paid are shown in accruals in the balance sheet. The assets of the plan are held separately from the company in independently administered funds.

c) Defined benefit pension plans

The company operates a defined benefit plan for certain employees. A defined benefit plan defines the pension benefit that the employee will receive on retirement, usually dependent upon several factors including age, length of service and remuneration. A defined benefit plan is a pension plan that is not a defined contribution plan.

The liability recognised in the balance sheet in respect of the defined benefit plan is the present value of the defined benefit obligation at the end of the reporting date less the fair value of the plan assets at the reporting date.

The defined benefit obligation is calculated using the projected unit credit method. Annually the company engages independent actuaries to calculate the obligation. The present value is determined by discounting the estimated future payments using market yields on high quality corporate bonds that are denominated in sterling and that have terms approximating the estimated period of the future payments ('discount rate').

The fair value of plan assets is measured in accordance with the FRS 102 fair value hierarchy and in accordance with the company's policy for similarly held assets. This includes the use of appropriate valuation techniques.

Actuarial gains and losses arising from experience adjustments and changes in actuarial assumptions are charged or credited to other comprehensive income. These amounts together with the return on plan assets, less amounts included in net interest, are disclosed as 'Remeasurement of net defined benefit liability'.

The cost of the defined benefit plan, recognised in profit or loss as employee costs, except where included in the cost of an asset, comprises the increase in pension benefit liability arising from employee service during the period and the cost of plan introductions, benefit changes, curtailments and settlements.

The net interest cost is calculated by applying the discount rate to the net balance of the defined benefit obligation and the fair value of plan assets. This cost is recognised in profit or loss as 'Net finance costs in respect of defined benefit pension schemes', within interest payable and similar charges

d) Annual bonus plan

The company operates an annual bonus plan for employees. An expense is recognised in the profit and loss account when the company has a legal or constructive obligation to make payments under the plan as a result of past events and a reliable estimate of the obligation made.

(vii) Finance and operating leases

Costs in respect of operating leases are charged on a straight line basis over the term of the lease.

Leasing arrangements which transfer to the Company substantially all the benefits and risks of ownership of an asset are treated as if the asset had been purchased outright. The assets are included in tangible fixed assets and the capital element of the leasing commitments is shown as an obligation under finance leases. The lease rentals are treated as consisting of capital and interest elements. The capital element is applied to reduce the outstanding obligations and the interest element is charged against profit in proportion to the reducing capital element outstanding. Assets held under finance leases are depreciated over the shorter of the lease terms or the useful lives of equivalent owned assets.

(viii) Foreign currencies

The company's functional and presentational currency is the pound sterling.

Transactions in foreign currencies are recorded at the rate of exchange at the date of the transaction. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at the balance sheet date are retranslated at the rates of exchange prevailing at that date, or if appropriate, at the forward contract rate and differences recognised in Cost of Sales.

Intercompany balances denominated in foreign currencies are translated at each balance sheet date using the rates prevailing at that date. Differences are recognised within administrative expenses.

Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of transactions and the translation of period-end exchange rates of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are recognised in the profit and loss account except when deferred in other comprehensive income as qualifying cash flow hedges.

Foreign exchange gains and losses that relate to borrowings and cash and cash equivalents are presented in the profit and loss account.

(ix) Taxation

Taxation expense for the period comprises current and deferred tax recognised in the reporting period. Tax is recognised in the profit and loss account, except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity. In this case tax is also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity respectively.

Current or deferred taxation assets and liabilities are not discounted.

a) Current tax

Current tax is the amount of income tax payable in respect of the taxable profit for the year or prior years. Tax is calculated on the basis of tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the period end.

Management periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulation is subject to interpretation. It establishes provisions where appropriate on the basis of amounts expected to be paid to the tax authorities.

b) Deferred tax

Deferred tax arises from timing differences that are differences between taxable profits and total comprehensive income as stated in the financial statements. These timing differences arise from the inclusion of income and expenses in tax assessments in periods different from those in which they are recognised in financial statements.

Deferred tax is recognised on all timing differences at the reporting date except for certain exceptions. Unrelieved tax losses and other deferred tax assets are only recognised when it is probable that they will be recovered against the reversal of deferred tax liabilities or other future taxable profits.

Deferred tax is measured using tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the period end and that are expected to apply to the reversal of the timing difference.

(x) Tangible assets and depreciation

Tangible assets are stated at cost (or deemed cost) less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses. Cost includes the original purchase price, costs directly attributable to bringing the asset to its working condition for its intended use, dismantling and restoration costs.

a) Land and buildings

Land and buildings include freehold factories and offices. Buildings are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses. Freehold land is stated at cost and is not depreciated.

b) Plant and machinery and fixtures and fittings.

Plant and machinery and fixtures and fittings, are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses.

c) Depreciation and residual values

Land is not depreciated. Depreciation on other assets is calculated, using the straight-line method, to allocate the cost to their residual values over their estimated useful lives, as follows:

- Freehold buildings – over periods up to 40 years
- Plant and machinery – up to 12 years
- Fixtures and fitting – 3-5 years

The assets' residual values and useful lives are reviewed, and adjusted, if appropriate, at the end of each reporting period. The effect of any change is accounted for prospectively.

d) Assets in the course of construction

Assets in the course of construction are stated at cost. These assets are not depreciated until available for use.

(xi) Capitalisation of finance costs

Financing fees in relation to the cost of raising debt are capitalised and written off on a straight line basis over the life of the financing arrangement.

(xii) Intangible assets

Goodwill and Brands are amortised over its estimated useful life of 10 years and are stated at historic cost net of amortisation and any provision for impairment. Computer software is stated at historic cost and amortised over a useful life of 3-5 years.

(xiii) Impairment of goodwill, intangible and tangible assets

In accordance with FRS102, the Company performs impairment reviews where there is an indication that the carrying amount of goodwill, intangible or tangible assets may not be recoverable. The impairment review involves using measurement techniques to estimate the asset's recoverable amount, based upon the higher of post-tax net realisable value and value in use, and comparing that with the carrying value of the asset.

Where it is established that an asset has been impaired, then an amount equal to the impairment is charged to the profit and loss account in the period of the impairment. Where an impairment review has been carried out and the recoverable amount has been based on value in use, the Company monitors the results of the review of the next five periods. If, during this monitoring period, the results of the original impairment review are no longer considered to be appropriate, then a reversing credit or increased charge is made to the profit and loss account.

(xiv) Share based payments

The company operates a share based compensation scheme where the ultimate parent company issues equity-settled share based payments to certain employees of Cott Beverages Limited. Shares issued to employees have been measured at fair value at the date of the grant. The fair value of equity settled share based payments is determined at the date of grant and is expensed on a straight-line basis over the vesting period based on the group's estimate of when shares or share options will eventually vest and adjusted for the effect of non-market conditions.

Where the company participates in a share based payment arrangement established by a group company the company takes advantage of the alternative treatment allowed under Section 26 of FRS 102. The company recognises the share based payment expense based on allocation of its share of the groups total expense, calculated in proportion to the number of participating employees.

(xv) Investments

Investments are stated at cost less provisions for impairment.

Cott Beverages Limited

3 Summary of significant accounting policies (continued)

(xvii) Inventories

Inventories are valued at the lower of cost and estimated selling price less costs to complete and sell. Cost is determined on the first-in, first-out (FIFO) basis. In the case of manufactured products, cost includes all direct expenditure and production overheads based on the normal level of activity. At the end of each reporting period, inventories are assessed for impairment and where necessary, provision is made for obsolete, slow moving or defective inventories.

(xviii) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents includes cash in hand, deposits held at call with banks, other short-term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less and bank overdrafts. Bank overdrafts are shown within borrowings in current liabilities

(xix) Provisions and contingencies

Provisions are recognised when the company has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of past events; it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation; and the amount of the obligation can be estimated reliably.

Where there are a number of similar obligations, the likelihood that an outflow will be required in settlement is determined by considering the class of obligations as a whole. A provision is recognised even if the likelihood of an outflow with respect to any one item included in the same class of obligations may be small.

Restructuring provisions are recognised when the company has a detailed, formal plan for the restructuring and has raised a valid expectation in those affected by either starting to implement the plan or announcing its main features to those affected and therefore has a legal or constructive obligation to carry out the restructuring.

Provision is not made for future operating losses. Provisions are measured at the present value of the expenditures expected to be required to settle the obligation using a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the obligation. The increase in the provision due to passage of time is recognised as a finance cost, unless the impact would be immaterial.

Contingent liabilities are not recognised. Contingent liabilities arise as a result of past events when (i) it is not probable that there will be an outflow of resources or that the amount cannot be reliably measured at the reporting date or (ii) when the existence will be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of uncertain future events not wholly within the company's control. Contingent liabilities are disclosed in the financial statements unless the probability of an outflow of resources is remote.

Contingent assets are not recognised. Contingent assets are disclosed in the financial statements when an inflow of economic benefits is probable.

(xx) Financial Instruments

The company has chosen to adopt Sections 11 and 12 of FRS 102 in respect of financial instruments.

(a) Financial assets

Basic financial assets, including trade and other receivables and cash and bank balances are initially recognised at transaction price, unless the arrangement constitutes a financing transaction, where the transaction is measured at the present value of the future receipts discounted at a market rate of interest.

Cott Beverages Limited

At the end of each reporting period financial assets measured at amortised cost are assessed for objective evidence of impairment. If an asset is impaired the impairment loss is the difference between the carrying amount and the present value of the estimated cash flows discounted at the asset's original effective interest rate. The impairment loss is recognised in profit or loss. If there is decrease in the impairment loss arising from an event occurring after the impairment was recognised the impairment is reversed. The reversal is such that the current carrying amount does not exceed what the carrying amount would have been had the impairment not previously been recognised. The impairment reversal is recognised in profit or loss.

(b) Financial liabilities

Basic financial liabilities, including trade and other payables, bank loans, loans from fellow group companies and preference shares that are classified as debt, are initially recognised at transaction price, unless the arrangement constitutes a financing transaction, where the debt instrument is measured at the present value of the future receipts discounted at a market rate of interest.

Preference shares, which result in fixed returns to the holder or are mandatorily redeemable on a specific date, are classified as liabilities. The dividends on these preference shares are recognised in the profit and loss account as interest expense.

Trade payables are obligations to pay for goods or services that have been acquired in the ordinary course of business from suppliers. Trade payables are classified as current liabilities if payment is due within one year or less. If not, they are presented as non-current liabilities.

Financial liabilities are derecognised when the liability is extinguished, that is when the contractual obligation is discharged, cancelled or expires.

Derivatives are not basic financial instruments. Derivatives are initially recognised at fair value on the date a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured at their fair value. Changes in the fair value of derivatives are recognised in the profit and loss in finance costs or finance income as appropriate, unless they are included in a hedging arrangement.

(c) Hedging Arrangements

The company has elected to apply hedge accounting in respect of forward commodity contracts held to manage the cash flow exposures of forecast purchases of aluminium used within the production process. Forward commodity contracts are designated as cash flow hedges of the highly probable forecast transactions.

Changes in the fair values of derivatives designated as cash flow hedges, which are effective, are recognised directly in equity. Any ineffectiveness in the hedging relationship (being the excess of the cumulative change in the fair value of the hedging instrument since the inception of the hedge over the cumulative change in the fair value of the hedged item since inception of the hedge) is recognised in the profit and loss account. The gain or loss recognised in other comprehensive income is reclassified to the income statement when the hedge relationship ends. Hedge accounting is discontinued when the hedging instrument expires, no longer meets the hedging criteria, the forecast transaction is no longer highly probable or the hedging instrument is terminated.

(xxi) Share Capital

Ordinary shares are classified as equity. Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of new ordinary shares or options are shown in equity as a deduction, net of tax, from the proceeds.

(xxii) Distributions to equity holders

Dividends and other distributions to company's shareholders are recognised as a liability in the financial statements in the period in which the dividends and other distributions are approved by the company's shareholders. These amounts are recognised in the statement of changes in equity.

(xxiii) Related party transactions

The company discloses transactions with related parties which are not wholly owned with the same group. It does not disclose transactions with members of the same group that are wholly owned.

(xxiv) Business Combinations

Where there are business combinations with common control the company will record such transactions at book value.

4. Critical accounting judgements and estimation uncertainty

Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

Critical accounting estimates and assumptions

The company makes estimates and assumptions concerning the future. The resulting accounting estimates will, by definition, seldom equal the related actual results. The estimates and assumptions that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year are addressed below.

(i) Useful economic lives of tangible assets

The annual depreciation charge for tangible assets is sensitive to changes in the estimated useful economic lives and residual values of the assets. The useful economic lives and residual values are reassessed annually. They are amended when necessary to reflect current estimates, based on technological advancement, future investments, economic utilisation and the physical condition of the assets. See note 14 for the carrying amount of the property plant and equipment, and note (x) for the useful economic lives for each class of assets.

Cott Beverages Limited

4. Critical accounting judgements and estimation uncertainty (continued)

(ii) Inventory provisioning

The company manufactures and sells soft drinks and is subject to changing consumer demands. As a result it is necessary to consider the recoverability of the cost of inventory and the associated provisioning required. When calculating the inventory provision, management considers the nature and condition of the inventory, as well as applying assumptions around anticipated saleability of finished goods and future usage of raw materials. See note 16 for the net carrying amount of the inventory and associated provision.

(iii) Impairment of debtors

The company makes an estimate of the recoverable value of trade and other debtors. When assessing impairment of trade and other debtors, management considers factors including the current credit rating of the debtor, the ageing profile of debtors and historical experience. See note 17 for the net carrying amount of the debtors and associated impairment provision.

(iv) Defined benefit pension schemes

The company has an obligation to pay pension benefits to certain employees. The cost of these benefits and the present value of the obligation depend on a number of factors, including; life expectancy, salary increases, asset valuations and the discount rate on corporate bonds. Management estimates these factors in determining the net pension obligation in the balance sheet. The assumptions reflect historical experience and current trends. See note 22 for the disclosures relating to the defined benefit pension schemes.

18. Creditors: amounts falling due within one year (continued)

(i) Derivative financial instruments – Forward contracts

The Group enters into forward commodity contracts to mitigate the exchange rate risk associated with the purchase of aluminium to be used within the production process. At 31 December 2016, there were no outstanding contracts to mature (2015: All outstanding contracts were to mature within 11 months of the year end). The company is committed to purchase nil (2015: 18.1 million lb) at a fixed price and will receive an index-linked price in return.

The forward currency contracts are measured at fair value, which is determined using valuation techniques that utilise observable inputs. The key inputs used in valuing the derivatives are forward aluminium contract rates observed from terminal markets, such as the London Metal Exchange (LME).

Forward commodity contracts are held in cash flow hedges. No ineffectiveness (2015: nil) was noted on cash flow hedges during the period.

23 Share based payments

At 31 December 2016, Cott Corporation had the following types of share-based payments in issuance to certain employees of Cott Beverages Limited: Time-based Restricted Stock Units, Performance-based Restricted Stock Units and share options, all in respect of common shares in Cott Corporation.

Time-based Restricted Stock Units are granted with a $nil exercise price. The awards vest equally on an annual basis over a three year vesting period and employees must still be in the employment of the group at the point the awards vest to achieve the award. The holder of a Time-based Restricted Stock Unit is entitled to receive one common share for each vested Time-based Restricted Stock Unit, with awards considered exercised once vested.

Performance-based Restricted Stock Units are granted with a $nil exercise price. The awards vest based on the achievement of specified targets over a three year period established at the time of grant with a condition being that the employees are still employed by the group when the targets are met. The holder of a Performance-based Restricted Stock Unit is entitled to receive one common share for each vested Performance-based Restricted Stock Unit subject to the achievement of pre-determined performance targets, with awards considered exercised once vested.

The share options are granted with a fixed exercise price, are exercisable after three years after the date of the grant and expire ten years after the date of the grant. Employees are required to remain in the employment of the group.

Cott Beverages Limited accounts for the above as equity-settled share based payment transactions as the employees are entitled to shares in the ultimate parent company if the vesting conditions are met. The total charge recognised during the period is £368,868 (2015: £187,089). These amounts are recharged to the company directly from the ultimate parent company and therefore a capital contribution is not recognised for these transactions.

All share price values relating to share-based payments are paid in US Dollars. This is due to the fact that all shares issued to Cott Beverages Limited employees are issued from the ultimate parent company, being Cott Corporation, a company incorporated within Canada and listed on the New York Stock Exchange. No further disclosures have been made given the share based payments charge is immaterial in the accounts.
