The amount secured by the Existing Charge Document is as set out in the Form 395 relating to the Existing Charge Document dated 26 June 1990.

Paragraph 3.4 of Schedule 2 to the Consent Agreement has amended the BA Deeds of Covenant and Indemnity by the insertion of a new clause 2.03 which provides that if as a result of the transactions contemplated by the Consent Agreement or the Master Novation Agreement (including without limitation the substitution of the Substitute Party for Ruby as Borrower and Owner):

(a) any variation occurs (or does not occur) in respect of the calculation of Rent or Stipulated Loss Value payable under the Lease or any other amounts payable under the Lease, including without limitation under paragraph 15 of the Financial Schedule of the Lease, with the result that the amounts expressed to be due and payable by BA under the Lease on any date fall short of the amounts expressed to be due and payable by the Borrower under the Loan and Guarantee Agreement on such date (disregarding clause 20 of the Loan and Guarantee Agreement); or

(b) any of the obligations expressed to have been assumed by the Borrower under the Loan and Guarantee Agreement (as amended by the Consent Agreement and the Master Novation Agreement) prove not to be valid and binding obligations of the Borrower with the result that a shortfall arises in relation to amounts that would have been payable to the Banks had such obligations been valid and binding, then BA shall pay to the Paying Agent for the account of the Banks on demand an amount equal to the amount certified by the Agent in such demand to be equal to such shortfall.

(b) Ruby shall cease to be a party to the Novated Agreements and the Substitute Party shall become a party to them in place of Ruby;

(c) the Substitute Party undertakes with the Continuing Parties (as defined below) to accept, observe, perform and discharge all Liabilities of Ruby or expressed to have been assumed by the Substitute Party howsoever arising under the Novated Agreements in substitution for Ruby whether arising at, before or after the Effective Time, as if the Substitute Party had at all times been a party to the Novated Agreements;

(d) the Continuing Parties agree to the substitution of the Substitute Party in place of Ruby and that the Substitute Party may exercise and enjoy all the Rights of Ruby arising under the Novated Agreements in substitution for Ruby and Ruby acknowledges that it shall no longer be entitled to exercise or enjoy such Rights; and

(e) the Continuing Parties hereby release and discharge Ruby from all claims and demands, and from each of its Liabilities, howsoever arising under the Novated Agreements to the extent assumed by the Substitute Party pursuant to the Master Novation Agreement and accept the Liabilities to each of them of the Substitute Party in place of Ruby.

In clause 4.1 of the Master Novation Agreement, "Liabilities" includes all obligations and liabilities (expressed or implied) present and future, actual and contingent, crystallised and uncertain and, without limitation, obligations to pay or repay principal, interest, deferred interest, costs, fees and expenses, to perform or comply with any covenant or undertaking, to make correctly any representation or warranty or to advance any money or provide any facility, "Rights" includes all rights, title, interest, benefits and powers, proprietary and contractual and including without limitation the right to received payment or repayment of monies and payment of interest and the right to enforce any Liabilities and the plural includes the singular and vice versa.
