Please use a continuation page if you need to enter further signatures.

4 IMPORTANT: What to do nextNotify all parties

You must send copies of this application to all notifiable parties e.g. creditors, employees, shareholders, pension managers or trustees and other directors of the company within 7 days from the day on which the application is made.

You must also send copies to anyone who later becomes a notifiable party within 7 days of this taking place. This applies from the day of application and before the day on which the application is finally dealt with or withdrawn.

Please check the guidance notes which contain a full list of those who must be notified. Failure to notify interested parties is an offence which is punishable by up to 12 months in prison (for English or Welsh companies) or 6 months in prison (for Scottish or Northern Irish companies). It is advisable to obtain and retain some proof of delivery or posting of copies to notifiable parties.

Withdrawal of striking off application by a company

If the company ceases to be eligible for striking off at any time after the application is made, and before the application is finally dealt with, as specified in section 1009 of the Companies Act 2006, then the application must be withdrawn using form DS02 'Withdrawal of striking off application by a company' available from our website: gov.uk/companieshouse

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the integrity of the financial system and for the ability to detect and prevent fraud.

2. The second part of the document outlines the specific requirements for record-keeping. It states that all transactions must be recorded in a timely and accurate manner, and that the records must be maintained for a minimum of five years.

3. The third part of the document discusses the role of the auditor in verifying the accuracy of the records. It states that the auditor must perform a thorough review of the records and must report any discrepancies to the appropriate authorities.

4. The fourth part of the document discusses the consequences of failing to comply with the record-keeping requirements. It states that any individual or entity that fails to comply with these requirements may be subject to fines and penalties.

5. The fifth part of the document discusses the importance of training and education for all individuals involved in the financial system. It states that all individuals must be trained in the proper record-keeping procedures and must be held accountable for their actions.

6. The sixth part of the document discusses the importance of transparency and accountability in the financial system. It states that all transactions must be recorded in a transparent and accountable manner, and that the records must be made available to the public for review.

7. The seventh part of the document discusses the importance of the financial system in the economy. It states that the financial system is essential for the growth and development of the economy, and that it must be maintained in a sound and stable manner.

8. The eighth part of the document discusses the importance of the financial system in the lives of individuals. It states that the financial system is essential for the well-being of individuals, and that it must be maintained in a sound and stable manner.

9. The ninth part of the document discusses the importance of the financial system in the lives of businesses. It states that the financial system is essential for the success of businesses, and that it must be maintained in a sound and stable manner.

10. The tenth part of the document discusses the importance of the financial system in the lives of the nation. It states that the financial system is essential for the prosperity of the nation, and that it must be maintained in a sound and stable manner.
